“My District is for Peace” is a local peace initiative and petition campaign based in Berlin-Wedding, which campaigns for a socially just, peace-oriented and civil neighbourhood.

We share the concern of many people that increasing military spending - coupled with the resulting reallocation of public funds towards military capabilities - is putting massive pressure on social services such as education, healthcare, youth support and culture.

This jeopardises our future and the quality of life here in our local area.

Through the ‘My District is for Peace’ campaign, we are putting forward ten specific anti-militarist demands to local politicians. We are calling for more funding for education, culture and social infrastructure, rather than for rearmament and military training.

Together with all our supporters, we want to make our district, Berlin-Mitte, a district of peace. To do this, we need your signature in support of peace, social justice and international solidarity.
